DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 05 July 2007 with respect to the 35 U.S.C. 103(a) rejection of Robie et al. ("Robie") (U.S. 2002/016366) in view of Landry et al. ("Landry") (U.S. 2003/0233145) have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has argued that Robie in view of Landry fails to teach a midline marker embedded within the face of a vertebral body however Robie fully discloses a template (50) attached to a vertebral body (Para 0058). The Landry reference was provided to teach a midline marker which acts as a guide to direct the distractor to the intervertebral space, not to teach embedding a midline marker within a vertebral body.
2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The 35 U.S.C. 102(b) rejection of claim 1 has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.
4. Claims 1, 2, and 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Robie et al. (U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2002/0161366) in view of Landry et al. (U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2003/0233145).

Art Unit: 3738

5. Robie et al attaches the template (50) to a vertebral body as a midline marker, where the midline marker (50) is inserted in the guide of figure 4a and impacted until embedded with the vertebral body (P0058). An artificial disc (Hedrocel ALIF) is selected for implantation verified, where the size is verified by the insertion depth of the distractor (P0060), shown in Figure 10 and the implant is prepared for implantation (0061) by stuffing the implant with autologous bone. A window is removed from the annulus, where the window is the width of an artificial implant (P0052) and the nucleus pulposus is removed, as is inherent in the discectomy (P0053). For the purposes of claims 7, the distractors (10) will be trial spacers that are changed until an appropriate size is determined (P0056). The endplates are shaped by a reamer instrument (P0059), reamer instruments having blades, where the shaping instrument is guided by the midline marker (50) (P0059). The template is finally removed (P0063). As per claim 8, the trial spacers (10) are contacted by an insertion tool with a pin end (Figure 3B), where the template (50) (midline marker) is inserted with the pin insertion instrument of Figure 4A where the insertion instrument is removed as per the method figures 5-12.

6. However, Robbie et al. fails to disclose the use of a midline marker as a guide. Landry et al. disclose the use of an insertion guide, which acts as a midline marker, as disclosed above. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the use of a guide to direct a distraction member as taught by Landry et al. with a method of implanting an artificial disc, as per Robbie et al. The motivation to combine being that a guide will accurately place the distracter within the disc space, as found in Landry et al. (P0022).

7. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over

Art Unit: 3738

Robie et al. in view of Landry et al. in further view of Michelson (U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2002/0058944) Robie et al in view of Landry et al. is discussed supra.

However Robie et al in view of Landry et al. does not disclose radiographical markers.

Michelson teaches radiographical (P0069) in the same field of endeavor or the analogous art of surgery for the purpose of radiographical imaging. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of radiographical markers, as taught by Michelson, to aid in radiographical visualization as per Robbie, in order to assure the implant is aligned properly and to verify the implant (Michelson P0069).

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 12 and 13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

10. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 3738

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
